DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 6-7, 13, and 30-31 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Xu et al. (6,404,492), in view of Derickson et al. (5,796,479).

As to claims 3 and 30, Xu discloses a light source apparatus and measurement method, comprising, during a first time interval, separating a first spectral band of a plurality of spectral bands; directing the first spectral band to a photodetector while preventing the spectral bands in the plurality of spectral bands other than the first spectral band from reaching the photodetector; and generating with a wavelength monitoring circuit a first signal representing a characteristic of a modulated or un-modulated pattern of light in the spectral band; and repeating the steps during a second and subsequent time interval(s) (col. 5, lines 1-20, lines 27-31, col. 6, lines 40-45, and col. 7, lines 20-25)

As to the particular quality characteristics, Xu fails to disclose the determination of the characteristics, however to do so is well known as taught by Derickson. Derickson discloses a signal monitor in a wavelength division multiplexing system that monitors the signal-to-noise ratio in each wavelength signal (col. 3, lines 15-25). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to monitor the signal-to-noise ratio to ensure that the wavelengths equally illuminate the object.

As to claim 6, Xu discloses a light source apparatus and measurement method, comprising, an optical train;

a photodetector;

a routing mechanism;

an electrical circuit coupled to the photodetector; and an a control circuit coupled to the routing mechanism to cause only a first selected spectral band to be directed to the photodetector during a first time interval and to cause only a second spectral band to be directed to the photodetector during a second time interval (col. 5, lines 1-20, lines 27-31, col. 6, lines 40-45, and col. 7, lines 20-25).

As to the particular quality characteristics, Xu fails to disclose the determination of the characteristics, however to do so is well known as taught by Derickson. Derickson discloses a signal monitor in a wavelength division multiplexing system that monitors the signal-to-noise ratio in each wavelength signal (col. 3, lines 15-25). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to monitor the signal-to-noise ratio to ensure that the wavelengths equally illuminate the object.

As to claims 7 and 31, Xu and Derickson disclose everything claimed, as applied above, in addition the signals represent optical power levels (col. 7, lines 20-25).

As to claim 13, Xu and Derickson disclose everything claimed, as applied above, in addition the optical train includes a dispersive element (4, col. 5, line 28).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 4-5, 8-12, and 14-29 are allowed

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter. The prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fails to disclose or render obvious generating, during a first time interval a signal representing the combined optical power of the spectral bands other than the first spectral band, SONET frames, a plurality of dynamically routing elements controlled to direct the spectral bands during specified time periods.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

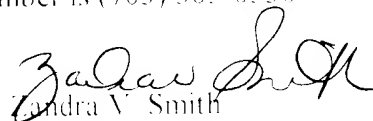

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 3, 6-7, 13 and 30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
